

NINETEEN FIRE COMPANIES HAVE ENTERED PARADE

Accept Invitations To Participate In Parade Saturday At Doylestown

ANTIQUE APPARATUS

Will Unveil Memorial Scroll In Memory of Horace M. Mann

Nineteen Bucks County fire companies have accepted an invitation to take part in the antique firemen's parade on Saturday in Doylestown, an event that will end with fire-fighting demonstrations, a memorial ceremony to a well known fire company official and a thrilling demonstration by the U. S. Navy.

The whole afternoon's affair was originated by the Bucks County Historical Society, with the support and co-operation of the Bucks County Firemen's Association, to be marked by the unveiling of a memorial scroll in memory of Horace M. Mann, the late curator of the Bucks County Historical Society, and for many years an active fireman and an official of the Doylestown Fire Company and the county association.

Audubon R. Davis, librarian of the Bucks County Historical Society, who was largely instrumental in suggesting the firemen's day program and memorial, said today that parade plans are in charge of a committee composed of Ralph Fassor, Walter Rush, Vincent Smith and David Taylor.

The parade will get under way at 2 p. m., with the Court House as the starting point. The line of march will be officially announced later and will depend on the number of pieces of equipment in line.

WHAT PEOPLE READ

It is significant and indicative of a trend that a recent increase of $10 a ton in the price of Canadian newsprint has brought widespread repercussions in this country, repercussions that have spread into the halls of Congress, but nary a word has found its way into print lamenting the high cost of "slick" paper used by magazines and in the production of books.

The reason, of course, is clearly evident. Newspapers today have the largest circulation in history and use a greater tonnage of newsprint than ever before, although there are fewer newspapers than a decade ago. Magazine circulation has held up well in the postwar years, but there is not the all-out interest in magazines that there is in the nation's press.

Consumption of newsprint by the country's newspapers has increased steadily for 15 years, and today is more than double the figure of 10 years ago, but output of newsprint in the U. S. has steadily declined. During the war several mills switched from the manufacture of newsprint to coated paper because the price of newsprint was more rigidly controlled.

Today newspapers in the U. S. are dependent upon Canadian sources of supply for 90 per cent of their raw material. Fifty years ago more than 85 per cent was produced in this country, and for several decades before World War II boatloads of paper were shipped to these shores by Scandinavian mills.

The book publishing business has been adversely affected by high prices, according to book publishers. Fewer people will pay the prices that must be charged for high class volumes, they say.

That production of newsprint on a large scale will ever be resumed in this country is doubtful. Moves are under way, in and out of Congress, to finance new mills in this country that will relieve dependence on Canadian supplies. Some large American newspapers own paper mills in Canada. The Chicago Tribune has more than $100,000,000 invested in Canadian mills.

Ignoring the fact that the price of Canadian newsprint has been boosted to a height that will make increased circulation and advertising rates necessary, it is detrimental to the national interest for newspapers of the United States to be dependent upon mills in another nation for virtually their entire supply of newsprint.

At the rate the horse population of the country is declining, horse racing may soon be necessary for perpetuation, instead of improvement, of the breed.

One of the best automobile accident preventives would be a Sunday afternoon nap, but not at the wheel.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Feb. 4, 1904. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

PENNS MANOR — William C. Merston lost a valuable horse by an accident last week. The horse was out in the barnyard with the cattle when it was attacked by a cow, and before it could get away the bovine tore a big hole in the horse's breast with her horns. The horse had to be killed.

ANDALUSIA — Clement W. Stackhouse is the best checker player in Andalusia. The only one who can beat Charles Biddle.

Harry Rue purchased at public sale on last Saturday the house and lot at 207 Buckley street, paying $550 therefor.

The Delaware river at Bristol has been frozen over forty five days, the longest period since 1860. This information is obtained from a record kept by Captain Burnet Landreth.

W. H. J. Wilson has made an engagement to appear all of next week at the new Trent Theater in Trenton in a whistling solo part.

The bonds to be issued by Bensalem township under the Good Roads law, amounting to $75,000 have been subscribed for by the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, of Philadelphia, and the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County at Bristol. The rate of interest is four per cent, clear of tax.

The Wilton Show Case Company, of Bristol is exceedingly busy manufacturing its new detachable show case brackets. There were delivered several orders this week in Philadelphia and Camden and orders are continually coming in from New York and Philadelphia. This enterprise looks like a very valuable addition to the manufacturing industries of Bristol and the future of the company is apparently promisingly established.

The annual meeting of the Bristol Cemetery Board was held at the office of Dr. H. Pursell, on Monday evening when the following ing officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George A. Shoemaker; treasurer, Philip Halzell; secretary, Dr. Howard Pursell; directors, Joseph R. Grundy, Ernest Lawrence, A. J. Hibbs, William B. Blackwood, and the three officers by virtue of their positions.

Dr. W. H. Long announces that he has purchased the Basket Ball Auditorium of Bristol and is arranging and reconstructing the same as a first class family theatre which will open on next Monday evening, February 8, as the Nef Colonial Theatre, with a company of forty artists including Diamond Jack's Band. Dr. Long is a veteran in the theatrical business and was formerly manager of the Camden Opera House and also of the Empire Theatre of Frankford. Dr. Long says he has always been impressed with the peculiar fact that Bristol has had no play house and he has determined to fill what he thinks to be a long felt want. The auditorium has been transformed into a comfortable family theatre. A 40-foot stage with all necessary scenery has been installed, and opera chairs placed upon a raised floor. Dr. Long declares that if he finds his efforts are appreciated and he is accorded a liberal patronage, next season he will construct a first-class modern theatre here.

The largest real estate deal of the winter at Atlantic City was consummated Monday. The Grand Atlantic Hotel and three cottages on Virginia Avenue and the beach were sold to the Kittittiny Hotel Company by Charles E. Cope, who is well known in Bucks County. That company immediately resold the same to A. Chesire Mitchell, late lessee of the Hotel Agnew, for $250,000. Mr. Cope then purchased of the company the Kittittiny Hotel, at Delaware Water Gap.

for $150,000, which he will manage in the future. Mr. Mitchell will reopen the Grand Atlantic, February 11. Mr. Cope's home is at Wycombe, on the trolley line between Doylestown and Bristol.

The regular meeting of the Public School Board was held in the Directors' room in the high school building last evening. The directors present were: John K. Wildman, Edward H. Foster, Harvey S. Rue, P. J. Barrett, Doron Green. The non-attendance of some of the members of the Board has become a continual annoyance and unless an improvement is noted in the near future the law relating to the matter will probably be enforced, in which event the negligent directors can be removed and new ones selected. The Superintendent reported as follows: Number of scholars enrolled, 872; greatest number present, 700; least number present, 559; average attendance, 708; per cent of attendance, 84; present every half day, 193; new pupils admitted, 14.

Church Wedding Is In Blush-Pink Setting

Mr. James Welsh, Bridgewater, brother of the bride, and Mr. Donald Stambro, Buffalo, N. Y., were Miss Helen Rea, her cousin, of Clifton, N. J. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Jensen, Croydon, and Miss Helen Ruski, Langhorne.

The bride gown was fashioned of white silk lace over blush pink taffeta. The gown featured a scalloped neckline, short sleeves, tight fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt was floor length. Her mitts were of lace matching that of the gown. A lace cap edged in seed pearl held in place her finger-tip length veil of illusion net. The brides only jewelry was a family heirloom, a diamond and pearl lavalier belonging to her aunt, for which she is a namesake. White brocade slippers completed her attire. She carried a white Bible atop of which was placed a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and white shower ribbons.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids, were dressed in pink nylon net over pink taffeta. The gowns were styled similar to the bride's, except ballerina length.

They wore pink slippers and pink mitts. Their headpieces were of pink rosebuds. Their bouquets were nosegays of pink rosebuds. Miss Rea's bouquet, tied with blue shower ribbons, distinguished her as the maid of honor. Each wore a marquisette cross necklace, a gift from the bride.

Mrs. Welsh, mother of the bride, chose a gray nylon lace over pink taffeta gown. It was styled ankle length. Her hat was pink velvet leaves with rhinestones, to which was attached a small veil. She wore pink elbow length gloves and gray slippers, and a wrist corsage. Mrs. Meyer's gown was navy blue lace bodice, nylon net skirt over navy taffeta. With this she wore white accessories and hat. She wore a pink rosebud corsage.

A reception for 85 was held at the Potomac Country Club, Torrens, Md. The couple left for a honeymoon touring the southern states. The bride's traveling costume consisted of a navy blue lace redingote over navy taffeta, white hat and slippers, red gloves. She wore a corsage of blue, white and red carnations.

The couple will reside in Boston, Mass., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Navy. The bride is a former employee of U. S. Steel Co.

"What Did The Man Say?"

same page of the Times as Mr. Krock's. This writer, whose editorial was the Times "leader," said that the reporters tried "persistently and skillfully as they could to get sharply detailed and specific commitments" and that "General Eisenhower was trying, just as persistently and skillfully, to keep the tone of the conference general." This editorial adds significantly: "He took no positions that he has not taken previously."

The N. Y. Times news summary neatly straddles the point. It says that the General "believes the Federal Government should use all its influence and whatever constitutional authority it has" to the end of obtaining "fairness and equality for all citizens"—BUT "he believes in the long run that the states can do the job better with wise leadership."

Other reporters, internationally or otherwise, gave the same "yes-and-no" interpretation to the interview and left the same impression of a careful straddle in which the General tried to appease both the advocates of compulsion in the North, and the states-rights in the South.

Mr. Krock's happy conclusion that the General "stated his views firmly" and displayed "candor and courage" does not appear to be borne out by the facts. The General may have intended to be, but on this F. E. P. C. issue, as on many others, he left himself open to the accusation of having fenced with the reporters and of having tried to tailor his answers to please all factions.

If there is any doubt that what he had to say on the subject of F. E. P. C. was ambiguous and inconclusive, one final quotation from the New York Times ought to be enough to cinch the point.

On page eleven of the same issue which had the various other passages already cited was to be found a brief dispatch in which Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called upon the General "to clarify his position on establishment of a Fair Employment Practices Commission."

Apparently Mr. White didn't agree with Mr. Krock that the General had specifically and definitely stated his views on this matter.

for the boys' support. They said that he is five weeks behind in the payments for a total of $100.

Saturday afternoon Indelicato, according to the boys, walked into the Tresco apartment. He had visited them upon previous occasions. He told the family to sit down he wanted to tell them something, the boys say. Then they stated that Tresco asked Indelicato "Have you got a gun?" "Maybe," they say Indelicato replied as he fumbled in his coat pocket.

The argument continued and finally there was a scuffle and the stabbing resulted. Frank, the younger of the two sons took the knife from Indelicato he told police. Joseph, the other boy, excitedly called the firemen instead of police. Firemen rushed to the scene and armed with hose lines climbed to stairs to the second floor apartment, only to find that it was a fight instead of a fire. Police and ambulance soon followed.

The Indelicatos have been divorced two years and Mrs. Indelicato married Tresco, February 2, 1952.

Indelicato had visited the Tresco apartment Wednesday it is stated and talked with his former wife and son, Joseph. At that time it is said, payment of the money due for the support of the two boys was discussed.

Bristol Blood Donors took Mrs. Tresco to St. Francis Hospital,

Trenton and her husband to the Harriman Hospital.

Indelicato will be given a hearing perhaps today.

Officers Chance and Faragalli were the investigating officers. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol, Indelicato was charged with assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, attempt to kill, and surety of the peace. He was held without bail for a further hearing June 23rd at 6:30 p. m.

TV OWNERS ATTENTION!

With the "Freeze" lifted, permitting the building of new stations, TV expansion can again get under way toward an ultimate goal of almost 2,000 Stations, two-thirds of them U. H. F. DEVOE & KEENE presents below the facts about U. H. F. TV as a service to you personally.

- 1.—What is U. H. F.?
U. H. F. means "Ultra High Frequency." Whereas present TV is broadcast in the "Very High Frequency" (V. H. F.) band between 54 and 216 megacycles, many new stations will operate in the U. H. F. band, between 470 and 890 megacycles.
- 2.—Will U. H. F. be the same as V. H. F. in quality?
In general, the quality of reception and the quality of the programs will at least be as good as V. H. F. In some cases, the results will be even better due to the fact that U. H. F. is more immune to certain types of interference. U. H. F. probably will not "carry" as far, but this will be of no importance in the long run, as there will be new stations operating in what are now the "Fringe Areas."
- 3.—Why must there be U. H. F. TV?
Because the present plan for allocating frequencies to different TV stations, which provides for 12 Channels in the V. H. F. band, does not allow for as many Stations as the nation needs.
- 4.—What is the difference between "Channel" and "Station"?
Instead of being assigned a single frequency, TV stations are assigned a small band of frequencies known as a channel. There are 12 V. H. F. Channels, as you can see on the tuning knob (or "channel selector") of a TV set. A station is a place where broadcasting is done, the channel is the band of frequencies on which it operates.
- 5.—How many stations are there?
There are 108 stations in 65 cities of 33 states. 43 of these cities have only one station; 15 states have no TV stations at all.
- 6.—Will there ever be more than 108 Stations?
Yes, and soon. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is expected to start issuing permits for the construction of new stations in August, and several can be expected to get on the air this year.
- 7.—Will the new stations all be U. H. F.?
Under the new plan providing for almost 2,000 stations, over two-thirds will be U. H. F., the balance will be on one of the present 12 V. H. F. Channels.
- 8.—Where will the U. H. F. stations be located?
The plan provides for U. H. F. stations all over the U. S., but it is expected that in issuing permits, first preference will be given to cities that have no TV at present, and second preference to those with only one station.
- 9.—Will there be U. H. F. and V. H. F. stations in the same city?
Yes. The plan provides for both types in many cities. In addition to those which have no TV, 62 of the 65 cities now with TV will eventually have both U. H. F. and V. H. F. Of these, 40 are one station cities and can be expected to get U. H. F. grants early in the game.
- 10.—Will present sets get both U. H. F. and V. H. F.?
No sets made up to the present time can receive U. H. F. without modification, but virtually all present sets have "provision" for U. H. F., which means that with either an interior change or the addition of an external converter, they can receive U. H. F. Manufacturers have U. H. F. converters all ready. Devoe & Keene is prepared to render the utmost in service and "Know How" to the many TV owners who may desire to add the necessary changes to their present sets to receive U. H. F. when the channels become available.
- 11.—Wouldn't it be better to wait for U. H. F. sets?
No. By doing so, you would miss out on many months of enjoyment of TV. In addition, it is very likely that the new U. H. F.-V. H. F. sets will be more expensive, so you won't lose anything by buying now and taking a chance that you might have to convert later.
- 12.—Are special antennas needed for U. H. F.?
In most cases, specially designed antennas will be needed for U. H. F. In size they will be a great deal smaller than present antennas. These antennas have already been developed and tested. Devoe & Keene are prepared to utilize the most modern techniques and equipment to gain for you the ultimate in all-around U. H. F. and V. H. F. reception.
- 13.—Which, and how many U. H. F. Channels will be near enough to interest us?
To this date we have learned of 6 which are to be available in the not-too-far future. The numbers and locations are as follows: Channel 41 to be located in Trenton, Channel 80 to be located in Camden, Channels 17, 23, 29, 35 are to be located in the Philadelphia area.

May we serve you in the near future for your present TV needs?

The Rev. Henry Woll, pastor of Presbyterian Church of Havertown, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, with Mr. Frederick Woll, of Wynwood, at the organ. He also accompanied Mr. Frederick Everest, of Yardley, as he rendered "Because," "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white gro de laundra, fashioned with fitted bodice, portrait neckline, short puffed sleeves, with long full skirt with buckles at either side of the skirt, which caught up with rosebuds, folds of the gown, and fell into a long cathedral train. Her jeweled headpiece held in place her fingertip scalloped veil of French illusion, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white carnations with orchid corsage in the center.

Miss Yvonne Bucher, sister of the bride, maid of honor, wore white organdy over orchid nylon marquisette, fashioned with fitted bodice and bat sleeves, with full-length skirt. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow carnations with orchid ribbon and wore garlands of the same in her hair.

In the Cathedral Church of the Nativity of Bethlehem, on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, Miss Mary Anne Scattene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Scattene, Bethlehem, became the bride of Mr. Edward Horace Bond, son of Mr. Amos C. Bond, Newtown.

Dean Robert Webb, of the Cathedral Church, assisted by the Rev. Edmund T. Sills, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, here, performed the ceremony, with Mr. Robert Knox Chapman, of Bethlehem, at the console.

Miss Janice Walton, Bethlehem, rendered "Where'Ere You Walk" and "Ich Liebe Dich;" and Mr. Morris Jones, also of Bethlehem, and uncle of the bride, sang "Still Is The Night" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an imported white Point de Venise lace gown fashioned over blue-white satin with long sleeved, fitted bodice with illusion neckline. Her full skirt swirled into a cathedral train. A cap of pleated tulle held

They wore gowns of wild rose nylon tulle, full length, over matching taffeta with short fitted jackets of chantilly lace over fitted bodice. Matching picture hats completed the ensembles. Each carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy.

Miss Susan Harris, Allentown, a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Her gown was of white tulle over blue white satin, made like those of the other attendants. She also carried a miniature bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

DON'T LET YOUR WIFE DISCOVER THIS TOO LATE !

Women by the thousands are discovering in the beautiful Chrysler Saratoga the easiest "big car" of all to handle . . . the most generously comfortable to ride in . . . and the most instantly responsive to their command.

That's why we say to you . . . and your wife . . . "Come in and see for yourselves what the Saratoga does for you." And do it now, before you decide on any car . . . not later, when you may regret not having all the things you can have in a Saratoga!

Yes, it is a big car with big car power . . . a breath-taking 180 H.P. performer (the most revolutionary V-8 engine in 25 years) that answers to the touch of your toe with delightful gusto. And it doesn't call for premium fuel, either! Does your wife think there's too much car here to handle? . . . let her try its Power Steering that does 4/5 of all the steering work and gives five times greater control on the road and when parking!

Is she safety-minded? Chrysler Power Brakes give her quicker, safer stops . . . with up to two-thirds less foot pressure. She'll appreciate Chrysler's Safety-Cushion dash panel. And in case of a blow-out, she'll have the assurance of Safety-Rim wheels that won't "throw" a tire.

How about comfort? Come, both of you, for a ride! . . . feel how those amazing Oriflow shock absorbers "liquidate" even the worst road bumps. Chair-high seats plus big, big windows let even the tiniest little lady see out properly. Doors open wide . . . and she can keep her hat on!

Here, in short, is the car beautifully designed for men and women. The liveliest, best handling car in America. The car you'll both be glad you saw first. Why not stop in today?

NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on any new Chrysler.

NINETEEN FIRE COMPANIES HAVE ENTERED PARADE

Accept Invitations To Participate In Parade Saturday At Doylestown

ANTIQUE APPARATUS

Will Unveil Memorial Scroll In Memory of Horace M. Mann

Nineteen Bucks County fire companies have accepted an invitation to take part in the antique-modern firemen's parade on Saturday in Doylestown, an event that will end with fire-fighting demonstrations, a memorial ceremony to well known fire company official and a thrilling demonstration by the U. S. Navy.

The whole afternoon's affair was originated by the Bucks County Historical Society, with the support and co-operation of the Bucks County Firemen's Association, to be marked by the unveiling of a memorial scroll in memory of Horace M. Mann, the late curator of the Bucks County Historical Society, and for many years an active fireman and an official of the Doylestown Fire Company and the county association.

Audubon R. Davis, librarian of the Bucks County Historical Society, who was largely instrumental in suggesting the firemen's day program and memorial, said today that parade plans are in charge of a committee composed of Ralph Vassor, Walter Rush, Vincent Smith and David Taylor.

The parade will get under way at 2 p. m., with the Court House area as the starting point. The line of march will be officially announced later and will depend on the number of pieces of equipment in line.

RESIGNS POSITION

DOYLESTOWN, June 9—After twenty-six years of service at the National Agricultural College (formerly National Farm School), Samuel B. Samuels, who served as business manager and as director of athletics and coach of several sports for many years, has resigned to enter private business.

"WHAT DID THE MAN SAY?"

With General Eisenhower on the scene answering questions about his position on national issues, and with barely a month remaining until the Republican party starts balloting on its presidential nominee, the drama of the G. O. P.'s 1952 battle is now in its last act.

The great question to be answered is quite simple—is General Eisenhower or Senator Taft better qualified to represent the Republican Party in next November's all-important election? For the answer, one can turn to sheer emotion, or can analyze critically and coldly on the record and on the evidence. But the record is confusing, and the evidence hazy.

Take a single example. For months the question has been asked, where does General Eisenhower stand regarding compulsory F. E. P. C.? To be for it is to please the "liberal" northern elements, to oppose it is to court the "lily-white" element of the south.

The General held a press conference last Thursday which covered 43 minutes and upwards of ten thousand words. He was asked, and replied to, a point-blank question on F. E. P. C. What did he say?

There you have quite an argument. The stenographic account of his interview shows that the General called the inquiry "a sort of shotgun question;" that he expressed his "unchangeable, unalterable support of fairness and equality among all types of American citizens;" but that he doesn't believe that "we can cure all of the evils in men's hearts by law," and that "when you get to compulsory action in certain specific phases of this thing I really believe we can do more by leadership in getting states to do it than to make it a Federal compulsory thing."

What does all that mean?

Arthur Krock, the usually feet-on-the-ground news analyst of the New York Times, cites the above as "a perfect illustration of the fact that Eisenhower does not propose to straddle any fence between him and the nomination." Mr. Krock, whose enthusiasm for the General may slightly have swayed his judgment, speaks of the General dealing in "yes or no replies," and reads into the statement on F. E. P. C. a long list of nuances of meaning none of which is to be found in the stenographic transcript.

A wholly different picture of the interview was that of an unidentified editorial writer whose version appeared on the Continued on Page Three

It is significant and indicative of a trend that a recent increase of $10 a ton in the price of Canadian newsprint has brought widespread repercussions in this country, repercussions that have spread into the halls of Congress, but nary a word has found its way into print lamenting the high cost of "slick" paper used by magazines and in the production of books.

The reason, of course, is clearly evident. Newspapers today have the largest circulation in history and use a greater tonnage of newsprint than ever before, although there are fewer newspapers than a decade ago. Magazine circulation has held up well in the postwar years, but there is not the all-out interest in magazines that there is in the nation's press.

Consumption of newsprint by the country's newspapers has increased steadily for 15 years, and today is more than double the figure of 10 years ago, but output of newsprint in the U. S. has steadily declined. During the war several mills switched from the manufacture of newsprint to coated paper because the price of newsprint was more rigidly controlled.

Today newspapers in the U. S. are dependent upon Canadian sources of supply for 90 per cent of their raw material. Fifty years ago more than 85 per cent was produced in this country, and for several decades before World War II boatloads of paper were shipped to these shores by Scandinavian mills.

The book publishing business has been adversely affected by high prices, according to book publishers. Fewer people will pay the prices that must be charged for high class volumes, they say.

That production of newsprint on a large scale will ever be resumed in this country is doubtful. Moves are under way, in and out of Congress, to finance new mills in this country that will relieve dependence on Canadian supplies. Some large American newspapers own paper mills in Canada. The Chicago Tribune has more than $100,000,000 invested in Canadian mills.

Ignoring the fact that the price of Canadian newsprint has been boosted to a height that will make increased circulation and advertising rates necessary, it is detrimental to the national interest for newspapers of the United States to be dependent upon mills in another nation for virtually their entire supply of newsprint.

At the rate the horse population of the country is declining, horse racing may soon be necessary for perpetuation, instead of improvement, of the breed.

One of the best automobile accident preventives would be a Sunday afternoon nap, but not at the wheel.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Feb. 4, 1904. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

PENNS MANOR — William C. Mershon lost a valuable horse by an accident last week. The horse was out in the barnyard with the cattle when it was attacked by a cow, and before it could get away the bovine tore a big hole in the horse's breast with her horns. The horse had to be killed.

ANDALUSIA — Clement W. Stackhouse is the best checker player in Andalusia. The only one who can beat Charles Biddle.

Harry Rue purchased at public sale on last Saturday the house and lot at 207 Buckley street, paying $550 therefor.

The Delaware river at Bristol has been frozen over forty five days, the longest period since 1860. This information is obtained from a record kept by Captain Burnett Landreth.

W. H. J. Wilson has made an engagement to appear all of next week at the new Trent Theater in Trenton in a whistling solo part.

The bonds to be issued by Bensalem township under the Good Roads law, amounting to $75,000 have been subscribed for by the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, of Philadelphia, and the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County at Bristol. The rate of interest is four per cent, clear of tax.

The Wilton Show Case Company, of Bristol is exceedingly busy manufacturing its new detachable show case brackets. There were delivered several orders this week in Philadelphia and Camden and orders are continually coming in from New York and Philadelphia. This enterprise looks like a very valuable addition to the manufacturing industries of Bristol and the future of the company is apparently promisingly established.

The annual meeting of the Bristol Cemetery Company was held at the office of Dr. H. Pursell, on Monday evening when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George A. Shoemaker; treasurer, Philip Halzell; secretary, Dr. Howard Pursell; directors, Joseph R. Grundy, Ernest Lawrence, A. J. Hibbs, William R. Blackwood, and the three officers by virtue of their positions.

Dr. W. H. Long announces that he has purchased the Basket Ball Auditorium of Bristol and is arranging and reconstructing the same as a first class family theatre which will open next Monday evening, February 8, as the Nef Colonial Theatre, with a company of forty artists including Diamond Jack's Band. Dr. Long is a veteran in the theatrical business and was formerly manager of the Camden Opera House and also of the Empire Theatre of Frankford. Dr. Long says he has always been impressed with the peculiar fact that Bristol has had no play house and he has determined to fill what he thinks to be a long felt want. The auditorium has been transformed into a comfortable family theatre. A 40-foot stage with all necessary scenery has been installed, and opera chairs placed upon a raised floor. Dr. Long declares that if he finds his efforts are appreciated and he is accorded a liberal patronage, next season he will construct a first-class modern theatre here.

The largest real estate deal of the winter at Atlantic City was consummated Monday. The Grand Atlantic Hotel and three cottages on Virginia Avenue and the beach were sold to the Kittatiny Hotel Company by Charles E. Cope, who is well known in Bucks County. That company immediately resold the same to A. Chesire Mitchell, late lessee of the Hotel Agnew, for $280,000. Mr. Cope then purchased of the company the Kittatiny Hotel, at Delaware Water Gap.

for $150,000, which he will manage in the future. Mr. Mitchell will re-open the Grand Atlantic, February 11. Mr. Cope's home is at Wycombe, on the trolley line between Doylestown and Bristol.

The regular meeting of the Public School Board was held in the Directors' room in the high school building last evening. The directors present were: John K. Wildman, Edward H. Foster, Harvey S. Rue, P. J. Barrett, Doron Green. The non-attendance of some of the members of the Board has become a continual annoyance and unless an improvement is noted in the near future the law relating to the matter will probably be enforced, in which event the negligent directors can be removed and new ones selected. The Superintendent reported as follows: Number of scholars enrolled, 872; greatest number present, 700; least number present, 589; average attendance, 708; per cent of attendance, 84; present every half day, 193; new pupils admitted, 14.

The bride chose as her maid of honor Miss Helen Rea, her cousin, of Clifton, N. J. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Jensen, Croydon, and Miss Helen Ruski, Langhorne.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white silk lace over blush pink taffeta. The gown featured a scalloped neckline, short sleeves, tight fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt was floor length. Her mitts were of lace matching that of the gown. A lace cap edged in seed pearl held in place her finger-tip length veil of illusion net. The brides only jewelry was a family heirloom, a diamond and pearl lavalier belonging to her aunt, for which she is a namesake. White brocade slippers completed her attire. She carried a white Bible atop of which was placed a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and white shower ribbons.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids, were dressed in pink nylon net over pink taffeta. The gowns were styled similar to the bride's, except ballerina length.

They wore pink slippers and pink mitts. Their headpieces were of pink rosebuds. Their bouquets were nosegays of pink rosebuds. Miss Rea's bouquet, tied with blue shower ribbons, distinguished her as the maid of honor. Each wore a marquise cross necklace, a gift from the bride.

Mrs. Welsh, mother of the bride, chose a gray nylon lace over pink taffeta gown. It was styled ankle length. Her hat was pink velvet leaves with rhinestones, to which was attached a small veil. She wore pink elbow length gloves and gray slippers, and a wrist corsage. Mrs. Meyer's gown was navy blue lace bodice, nylon net skirt over navy taffeta. With this she wore white accessories and hat. She wore a pink rosebud corsage.

A reception for 85 was held at Poquessing Country Club, Torresdale. The couple left for a honeymoon touring the southern states. The bride's travelling costume consisted of a navy blue lace redingote over navy taffeta, white hat and slippers, red gloves. She wore a corsage of blue, white and red cornflowers.

The couple will reside in Boston, Mass., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Navy. The bride is a former employee of U. S. Steel Co.

"What Did The Man Say?"

same page of the Times as Mr. Krock's. This writer, whose editorial was the Times "leader," said that the reporters tried "persistently and skillfully as they could to get sharply detailed and specific commitments" and that "General Eisenhower was trying, just as persistently and skillfully, to keep the tone of the conference general." This editorial adds significantly: "He took no positions that he has not taken previously."

The N. Y. Times news summary neatly straddles the point. It says that the General "believes the Federal Government should use all its influence and whatever constitutional authority it has" to the end of obtaining "fairness and equality for all citizens"—BUT "he believes in the long run that the states can do the job better with wise leadership."

Other reporters, internationally or otherwise, gave the same "yes-and-no" interpretation to the interview and left the same impression of a careful straddle in which the General tried to appease both the advocates of compulsion in the North, and the states-righters in the South.

Mr. Krock's happy conclusion that the General "stated his views firmly" and displayed "candor and courage" does not appear to be borne out by the facts. The General may have intended to be, but on this F. E. P. C. issue, as on many others, he left himself open to the accusation of having fenced with the reporters and of having tried to tailor his answers to please all factions.

If there is any doubt that what he had to say on the subject of F. E. P. C. was ambiguous and inconclusive, one final quotation from the New York Times ought to be enough to cinch the point.

On page eleven of the same issue which had the various other passages already cited was to be found a brief dispatch in which Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called upon the General "to clarify his position on establishment of a Fair Employment Practices Commission."

Apparently Mr. White didn't agree with Mr. Krock that the General had specifically and definitely stated his views on this matter.

for the boys' support. They said that he is five weeks behind in the payments for a total of $100.

Saturday afternoon Indelicato, according to the boys, walked into the Tresco apartment. He had visited them upon previous occasions. He told the family to sit down he wanted to tell them something, the boys say. Then they stated that Tresco asked Indelicato "Have you got a gun?" "Maybe," they say Indelicato replied as he fumbled in his coat pocket.

The argument continued and finally there was a scuffle and the stabbing resulted. Frank, the younger of the two sons took the knife from Indelicato he told police. Joseph, the other boy, excitedly called the firemen instead of police. Firemen rushed to the scene and armed with hose lines climbed to stairs to the second floor apartment, only to find that it was a fight instead of a fire. Police and ambulance soon followed.

The Indelicatos have been divorced two years and Mrs. Indelicato married Tresco, February 2, 1952.

Indelicato had visited the Tresco apartment Wednesday it is stated and talked with his former wife and son, Joseph. At that time it is said, payment of the money due for the support of the two boys was discussed.

Bristol Blood Donors took Mrs. Tresco to St. Francis Hospital.

Trenton and her husband to the Harriman Hospital. Indelicato will be given a hearing perhaps today.

Officers Chance and Faragalli were the investigating officers. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol, Indelicato was charged with assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery, attempt to kill, and surety of the peace. He was held without bail for a further hearing June 23rd at 6:30 p. m.

Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, Oct. 19, 1781.

TV OWNERS ATTENTION!

With the "Freeze" lifted, permitting the building of new stations, TV expansion can again get under way toward an ultimate goal of almost 2,000 Stations, two-thirds of them U. H. F. DEVOE & KEENE presents below the facts about U. H. F. TV as a service to you personally.

- What is U. H. F.?
U. H. F. means "Ultra High Frequency." Whereas present TV is broadcast in the "Very High Frequency" (V. H. F.) band between 54 and 216 megacycles, many new stations will operate in the U. H. F. band, between 470 and 890 megacycles.
- Will U. H. F. be the same as V. H. F. in quality?
In general, the quality of reception and the quality of the programs will at least be as good as V. H. F. In some cases, the results will be even better due to the fact that U. H. F. is more immune to certain types of interference. U. H. F. probably will not "carry" as far, but this will be of no importance in the long run, as there will be new stations operating in what are now the "Fringe Areas."
- Why must there be U. H. F. TV?
Because the present plan for allocating frequencies to different TV stations, which provides for 12 Channels in the V. H. F. band, does not allow for as many Stations as the nation needs.
- What is the difference between "Channel" and "Station"?
Instead of being assigned a single frequency, TV stations are assigned a small band of frequencies known as a channel. There are 12 V. H. F. Channels, as you can see on the tuning knob (or "channel selector") of a TV set. A station is a place where broadcasting is done, the channel is the band of frequencies on which it operates.
- How many stations are there?
There are 108 stations in 65 cities of 33 states. 43 of these cities have only one station; 15 states have no TV stations at all.
- Will there ever be more than 108 Stations?
Yes, and soon. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is expected to start issuing permits for the construction of new stations in August, and several can be expected to get on the air this year.
- Will the new stations all be U. H. F.?
Under the new plan providing for almost 2,000 stations, over two-thirds will be U. H. F., the balance will be on one of the present 12 V. H. F. Channels.
- Where will the U. H. F. stations be located?
The plan provides for U. H. F. stations all over the U. S., but it is expected that in issuing permits, first preference will be given to cities that have no TV at present, and second preference to those with only one station.
- Will there be U. H. F. and V. H. F. stations in the same city?
Yes. The plan provides for both types in many cities. In addition to those which have no TV, 62 of the 65 cities now with TV will eventually have both U. H. F. and V. H. F. Of these, 40 are now station cities and can be expected to get U. H. F. grants early in the game.
- Will present sets get both U. H. F. and V. H. F.?
No sets made up to the present time can receive U. H. F. without modification, but virtually all present sets have "provision" for U. H. F., which means that with either an interior change or the addition of an external converter, they can receive U. H. F. Manufacturers have U. H. F. converters all ready. Devoe & Keene is prepared to render the utmost in service and "Know How" to the many TV owners who may desire to add the necessary changes to their present sets to receive U. H. F. when the channels become available.
- Wouldn't it be better to wait for U. H. F. sets?
No. By doing so, you would miss out on many months of enjoyment of TV. In addition, it is very likely that the new U. H. F.-V. H. F. sets will be more expensive, so you won't lose anything by buying now and taking a chance that you might have to convert later.
- Are special antennas needed for U. H. F.?
In most cases, specially designed antennas will be needed for U. H. F. In size they will be a great deal smaller than present antennas. These antennas have already been developed and tested. Devoe & Keene are prepared to utilize the most modern techniques and equipment to gain for you the ultimate in all-around U. H. F. and V. H. F. reception.
- Which, and how many U. H. F. Channels will be near enough to interest us?
To this date we have learned of 6 which are to be available in the not-too-far future. The numbers and locations are as follows: Channel 41 to be located in Trenton, Channel 80 to be located in Camden, Channels 17, 23, 29, 35 are to be located in the Philadelphia area.

May we serve you in the near future for your present TV needs?

Mary B. Mazzilli Is The Bride of Navy Veteran

A navy veteran of World War II service and a Trenton avenue resident were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony yesterday at the hour of three in St. Ann's R. C. Church. The bride was Miss Mary B. Mazzilli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Indelicato, 1902 Trenton avenue, Mr. Indelicato escorting her to the altar to become the wife of Mr. Frank Simons, son Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Simons, Trenton, N. J.

The musicians were Mrs. Louis Freese, Mill street, organist; and Mr. Joseph Galzerano, Phila., vocalist.

For her wedding day the young woman chose a gown of Chantilly lace over white satin, the train being very long. The bodice was form-fitting and sleeves were long. With this was worn a Juliet cap of lace, a lace-edged net veil; and white satin slippers. She carried white orchids. The bride placed a bouquet of blossoms at the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

Her attendants were three in number: Miss Rita Lammara, a cousin, of Camden, N. J., as maid of honor; Miss Victoria Sordoni, Trenton, and Mrs. Herbert Jennings, Cleveland street, as bridesmaids. The maid of honor was attired in pale green; and the bridesmaids in yellow. Their gowns were of net over tulle, they being strapless. Net stolls were worn. Picture hats and linen slippers matched their gowns. Each young woman carried lavender orchids.

Mr. John Janszak, Trenton, was best man for Mr. Simons; and serving in the capacity of ushers were Messrs. Benjamin Campanara, Elm street, and Joseph Mauro, Trenton. The six o'clock catered dinner served to 100 in Fifth Ward Sporting Club was followed by a reception there at seven.

Leaving by airplane for a weeks stay in Florida, Mrs. Simons was attired in a beige suit, navy blue accessories, and wore white orchids.

Choice of Mrs. Indelicato for the ceremony was a navy blue net dress, matching accessories. Mrs. Simons, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a pink dress and white accessories.

The young couple will reside with the bride's parents. To her attendants Mrs. Simons presented rhinestone earrings and necklaces; and gifts of the bridegroom to his attendants were cigarette lighters.

The families at the home of the bride's parents. After a honeymoon, the young couple will reside in their apartment at Sycamore and Jefferson streets.

The bride is a graduate of Council Rock high school and is associated with the Bell Telephone Co., Langhorne. Mr. Yates is associated with the Lownes Motor Co. as a mechanic.

Penns Park Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage on Saturday at 4:30 p. m., of Miss Nancy Bucher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bucher, of Windy Bush Manor Farms, Newtown, R. D., and Mr. John Alden Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Butler, Larchmont, N. Y.

The Rev. Henry Woll, pastor of Presbyterian Church of Havertown, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, with Mr. Frederick Woll, of Wynnwood, at the organ. He also accompanied Mr. Frederick Everest, of Yardley, as he rendered "Because," "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white gro de laundra, fashioned with fitted bodice, portrait neckline, short puffed sleeves, with long full skirt with buckles at either side of the skirt, which caught up with rosebuds, folds of the gown, and fell into a long cathedral train. Her jeweled headpiece held in place her fingertip scalloped veil of French illusion, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white carnations with orchid corsage in the center.

Miss Yvonne Bucher, sister of the bride, maid of honor, wore white organdy over orchid nylon marquisette, fashioned with fitted bodice and bat sleeves, with full-length skirt. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow carnations with orchid ribbon and wore garlands of the same in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Bucher, Newtown, Mrs. Stanley Smith, Buckingham Valley, sisters of the bride; Mrs. Harvey Douie, Mt. Holly, N. J., a cousin of the bride. They all wore white organdy over yellow nylon marquisette, fashioned with fitted bodice, short puffed sleeves, full skirt, and carried old fashioned bouquets of orchid carnations with yellow ribbon and wore garlands of the same flowers in their hair.

Diane Smith, Buckingham Valley, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore white organdy over white nylon marquisette fashioned with fitted bodice, short puffed sleeves, full length skirt. She carried a miniature old-fashioned bouquet of mixed carnations and wore garlands of same in her hair.

Mr. David Butler, Jr., New York, N. Y., was best man for his brother; and ushers were Messrs. George Peterson and John Buckingham, Philadelphia; and Clyde Zykwert, Florham Park, N. J.

Mrs. Bucher chose a dusty pink taffeta shantung afternoon dress with fitted bodice. With this she wore white accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Butler, mother of the groom, was attired in a periwinkle silk crepe ensemble with matching accessories, and wore an orchid corsage.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed, after which the young couple left to spend the week-end in Wilmington, Del.

The bride is an alumna of Doylestown high school, Bucknell University, and the University of Pennsylvania, Phila. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Larchmont high school and Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, Phila. He is serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Dix, N. J.

In the Cathedral Church of the Nativity of Bethlehem, on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, Miss Mary Anne Scattene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Scattene, Bethlehem, became the bride of Mr. Edward Horace Bond, son of Mrs. Amos C. Bond, Newtown.

Dean Robert Webb, of the Cathedral Church, assisted by the Rev. Edmund T. Sills, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, here, performed the ceremony, with Mr. Robert Knox Chapman, of Bethlehem, at the console.

Miss Janice Walton, Bethlehem, rendered "Where'ere You Walk" and "Ich Liebe Dich;" and Mr. Morris Jones, also of Bethlehem, and uncle of the bride, sang "Still Is The Night" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore an imported white Pointe de Venise lace gown fashioned over blue-white satin with long sleeved, fitted bodice with illusion neckline. Her full skirt swirled into a cathedral train. A cap of pleated tulle held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a bouquet of white orchids combined with stephanotis.

Mrs. Frank A. Scattene, Jr., of Ayer, Mass., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor; Miss Eleanor Rabolo, Bethlehem, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor; with Miss Jean O'Shaughnessy, Bethlehem, Miss Gloria Cucolo, Suffern, N. Y., Miss Jean Lech Bowers, Allentown, and Mrs. Basil Karpelenia, Bethlehem, a cousin of the bride, serving as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of wild rose nylon tulle, full length, over matching taffeta with short fitted jackets of chantilly lace over fitted bodice. Matching picture hats completed the ensembles. Each carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy.

Miss Susan Harris, Allentown, a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Her gown was of white tulle over blue white satin, made like those of the other attendants. She also carried a miniature bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

Mr. David Wiley, of Pittsburgh, Pa., served as best man; and ushers were Messrs. Edward G. Olson, Easton; Frank Scattene, Jr., of Ayer, Mass., brother of the bride; Newell Armstrong, Trenton, N. J.; Charles Schadt, White Plains, N. Y.; Paul Rutter, Lancaster; and Theodore Freeman, of Elizabeth, N. J.

Mrs. Scattene chose a gown of champagne linen lace with which she wore matching accessories. Her corsage was of orchids. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bond, wore a gown of robins egg blue chantilly lace and chiffon, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink orchids.

A reception at the Hotel Traylor, Allentown, followed, after which the young couple left for a honeymoon at Virginia Beach, Va., and Sea Island, Ga.

After August 1st they will be at home in Brooklyn, N. Y., where the bridegroom is associated with the Socony Co. of New York. The bride is an alumna of Bethlehem high school and Edgewood Park Junior College at Briar Cliff Manor, N. Y. Mr. Bond is an alumnus of George School, and Lehigh University, and is a member of the Trenton Country Club.

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

DON'T LET YOUR WIFE DISCOVER THIS TOO LATE !

Women by the thousands are discovering in the beautiful Chrysler Saratoga the easiest "big car" of all to handle . . . the most generously comfortable to ride in . . . and the most instantly responsive to their command.

That's why we say to you . . . and your wife . . . "Come in and see for yourselves what the Saratoga does for you." And do it now, before you decide on any car . . . not later, when you may regret not having all the things you can have in a Saratoga!

Yes, it is a big car with big car power . . . a breath-taking 180 H.P. performer (the most revolutionary V-8 engine in 25 years) that answers to the touch of your toe with delightful gusto. And it doesn't call for premium fuel, either!

Does your wife think there's too much car here to handle? . . . let her try its Power Steering that does 4/5 of all the steering work and gives five times greater control on the road and when parking!

Is she safety-minded? Chrysler Power Brakes give her quicker, safer stops . . . with up to two-thirds less foot pressure. She'll appreciate Chrysler's Safety-Cushion dash panel. And in case of a blow-out, she'll have the assurance of Safety-Rim wheels that won't "throw" a tire.

How about comfort? Come, both of you, for a ride! . . . feel how those amazing Oriflow shock absorbers "liquidate" even the worst road bumps. Chair-high seats plus big, big windows let even the tiniest little lady see out properly. Doors open wide . . . and she can keep her hat on!

Here, in short, is the car beautifully designed for men and women. The liveliest, best handling car in America. The car you'll both be glad you saw first. Why not stop in today?

NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on any new Chrysler.
